IIIDEM and International IDEA Co-Host Two-Day International Consultative Workshop on Electoral Training for Capacity Building, Globally

The India International Institute of Democracy and Election Management (IIIDEM) in partnership with International IDEA are conducting a two-day International Consultative Workshop on 'Leveraging Electoral Training Facilities for Global Democracies'. The workshop is being held at the Lalit Hotel, New Delhi, on July 24th and 25th, 2017. Members from the Election Management Bodies (EMBs) of Australia, Nepal, Bulgaria, Nigeria and Georgia, delegates from International Organizations such as Association of World Election Bodies, United Nations Development Programme and United Nations Electoral Assistance Division along with other Indian Directors from Administrative Training Institutes are participating in this two-day workshop.

The programme commenced with Chief Election Commissioner of India, Shri. Achal Kumar Joti inaugurating the workshop. Shri. Joti explained that with each country having its own unique social, economic and political structure, adopting a 'one-size-fits-all' approach will prove redundant in working towards democratic governance and empowerment of persons. The necessity of innovation is not to be discarded as technology
